FINISH TESTING
"LITTLE INCH" IN ADAMS COUNTY

The Texas Eastern Transmission corporation, operator of the "Big Inch" and the "Little Inch" pipelines, which travel approximately 1,500 miles from the Texas oil fields to the eastern coast, has completed its work of hydrostatic testing of portion of the "Little Inch" lying in the eastern half of Adams county.

A company spokesman said that the completion of the work in four working days, Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, was an achievement "far ahead of the schedule we had expected to follow." The company had expected that the work would be underway for about two weeks.

Most of the line was found to be in perfect condition and only a few sections had to be replaced. Principal repairs were to be a section lying very close to the border of York county.

Use Water Pressure
In the hydrostatic testing, the company closed off short sections of the pipe and then used water pressure at a point higher than the gas pressure could ever get in order to find any weaknesses in the construction of the pipe.

K. F. Schultz, supervisor of the test, today expressed his gratitude to the people of Adams county along the line of the test "for the many kindnesses shown to us, our men and their families."

The company is continuing its testing in York county and will continue into Lancaster county. The crew expects to begin work in July in Franklin county. According to present plans the section of line between the Franklin county line and Heidlersburg, running through Adams county, will not be tested as it is believed to be "in good shape" as a result of the findings in the test section in eastern Adams county.

BLOOMS BATHE BATTLEFIELD

Springtime on the battlefield has turned this historic area which saw Union and Confederate armies locked in a struggle which has gone down in history as one of the seven greatest battles of the world, into a veritable fairland of color and a riot of bloom.

The Judas trees, or Red Bud, are at the height of their glorious bloom, and off-setting their deep color are the delicate shadings of the Dogwood blossoms which have also reached their peak.

In the National Cemetery, at the Roundtops, Devil's Den and at many other places on the battlefield, the scene is one long to be remembered by the hundreds of visitors to Gettysburg this week. Hundreds of Gettysburg residents and Adams countyans have also visited the "field to see the annual display of color."

Vistas of Red Bud mingling with the Dogwood seen through the woods and down the slopes combine with the new green of other bursting foliage and the deeper green of the evergreens, are breath-taking in their beauty. The National Park was never more beautiful than it is this week.

A budget of $166,805 for the 1950-51 school year was adopted Tuesday evening at a meeting of the four boards of the Littlestown school jointure, held in the Littlestown junior-senior high school. This budget is $20,885 higher than the past year and the increases are due largely to the increased cost of instructional service made necessary by the $400 increase in salary for those on the faculty who will receive their master's degree this summer, and the $300 increase in salary for all teachers, as required by law, and also $10,000 in building needs.

Approval was also given for the construction of three rooms under the auditorium in the junior-senior high school, which will be used for music, art, physical education and laboratory work.

This meeting was in charge of President Luther W. Ritter with Henry E. Waltman presenting the secretary's report. In attendance were the following directors: Union township: Roy Sterner, Stanley R. The board also approved exemptions in the school tax amounting to $555.90, due to removals from the community, death, incompetency and error. Receipts of the evening were: Taxes from Reid C. Epplenman, tax collector, $212.15. Expenditures were: Commissions on collecting taxes, Reid C. Epplenman, tax collector, $36.82; and to the Littlestown joint school board for instruction and operation of school, $4,805.25.

Says County's History Is
U.S. Story In Miniature

"The history of Adams county is American history in miniature," Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, professor of history at Gettysburg college, told students of Gettysburg high school in a talk given at the annual DAR assembly at the high school this morning.

For the 46th year, the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution presented awards to writers of prize essays and also awarded cash prizes to the top history students and home economics students of the high school.

Miss Alice L. Black, regent of the local chapter, presented the cash awards.

"So many things have happened in Adams county that by studying our county's history alone we can learn most of our country's history. All of the things that happened from the days of the colonies, had their repercussions in what is now Adams county. We in Adams county have a heritage of which we should be proud and which should help us be better citizens," Doctor Fortenbaugh declared.

"History is the memory of things said and done," he noted. "This year we are celebrating the 150th anniversary of the founding of Adams county as a separate political unit. We are not celebrating the beginning of life in the county, for that began well over 200 years ago when the first settlers came into this section. We are celebrating the sesqui-centennial because we have an interest in Adams county and be-

Four Railroads Affected By Firemen's Strike Today

Chicago, May 10 (AP)—A strike of railroad firemen today crippled service on four railroad systems stretching from coast to coast.

As the strike became 100 per cent effective at 8 a. m. central standard time, federal mediators who talked with union leaders through the night still were hopeful of a quick settlement.

The dispute centers on the firemen's demand for a second firemen in the cabs of multiple unit Diesel locomotives. The carriers contend the extra man is unnecessary and deny the union claim that safety factors are involved.

Pickets representing the 18,000 firemen on strike appeared at key points on the four systems—the Pennsylvania and New York Central, serving territory from Chicago eastward; the Southern railway, a key line of Dixie, and the Santa Fe, operating from Chicago to the Pacific coast.

The firemen's brotherhood used a creeping technique in putting their strike into effect. It started at 6 a. m. in local standard time zones, the east feeling it first. An hour later firemen in the central time belt went out, an hour later those in the mountain zone.

At 6 a. m. Pacific time — or 9 a. m. in the eastern zone—the walkout extended over its full course, the nation's first major railroad strike since May, 1946.

The tactic of singling out four principal carriers inconvenienced, but did not strand, the traveling public. Trains on runs at the time of the strike's zero hour continued on to their terminals.

Travelers between major terminal cities could make their trips on competing lines. Those relying on local service of the stricken lines had to switch to buses or other modes of transport.

Big freight customers transferred their shipping from the struck lines to alternate systems.

EXCHANGE CLUB TO ENTER FLOAT
IN PARADE HERE

The Exchange Club of Gettysburg, devoted its regular weekly dinner meeting at Banker's restaurant Tuesday night to a business session. There was no speaker.

The club voted to enter a float in the July 4 parade which will climax the five-day observance by the Gettysburg fire company of the 87th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg.

A committee, composed of John Sientz, Julius Swope and H. Earl Pitzer, was appointed by President Glenn Guise, to make arrangements.

The club received an invitation from the Gettysburg Country club to use its facilities at some time during the summer. The time and nature of the event will be decided later.

To Attend Convention
Two members of the club, Dr. Robert S. Lefever and George Haenn, will attend the state convention in Philadelphia. It was voted to omit the regular meeting on May 30, because of the Memorial Day holiday.

Edward A. Scott, father of E. Donald Scott, secretary of the club, who celebrated his 79th birthday Tuesday, was a guest.

The next meeting of the club, next Tuesday evening, will be "Defense Night." The speaker will be Major John R. Elting, instructor in the history, economics and government department of the Armed Forces Information school at Carlisle barracks, who will speak on "Armed Forces Day and Service Unification."

GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATE IS GREETED HERE

Republican gubernatorial candidate Jay Cooke expressed great interest in the proposed erection of a memorial to Abraham Lincoln in Lincoln square during a campaign visit to the borough Tuesday afternoon.

Informed that construction of such a statue is being contemplated, Cooke said, "I highly favor that, and suggest that the monument have Lincoln's Gettysburg address somewhere upon it." He described the address as "a masterpiece of English literature and a guidestone to our form of government."

He noted that "Lincoln's words are particularly applicable to our present day, in light of the national and international situation."

Nationwide Interest
Concerning the construction of a statue to Lincoln in the square, Cooke asked a number of questions about how it was to be financed. He favors enlisting popular support throughout the nation to construct the proposed monument.

During the course of his visit here, Cooke met Samuel Weiser, East Lincoln avenue. Weiser told Cooke that in his youth he frequently sat on the knee of Cooke's grandfather. At that time Weiser's grandfather was general manager for the Cooke-Fuller Iron works at Pine Grove Furnace which was owned by Cooke's grandfather.

Accompanying Cooke on the tour were Judge William I. Troutman, Northumberland county, candidate for judge of the state supreme court and Senator Wade, candidate for lieutenant governor.

Menches Escorts Cooke
Carl Menches, Cooke's campaign manager in Adams county, met the candidate at Lincoln square and then introduced him to a large number of residents who had gathered to meet the candidate.

Cooke had a reunion here with one of his World War I friends, John Hewitt, who showed the candidate several pictures taken in France when Cooke and Hewitt were in the same outfit. One of the pictures showed the spot where Cooke was gassed in the first World War. The two had met a number of times since the first World War when Cooke visited here while stationed at Indiantown Gap and when making trips through this section.

News Collected At Random

Thursday and Friday evenings a home talent cast will present an original comedy in the Gettysburg high school auditorium for the benefit of the welfare fund of the Woman's Club of Gettysburg. The author of the play is Mrs. Mara Stearns, member of the club.

The Woman's Club is not a wealthy organization but it makes every effort possible to subscribe to worthy causes. In recent years it has contributed to a number of projects that have had heart-warming appeals. However, their welfare fund is badly depleted. It needs replenishing. That's the reason for the home talent production.

TRUMAN SIGNS FOUNDATION ACT

Aboard Truman Train, May 10 (AP)—President Truman acted today to bolster the nation's atomic strength as he held out the grim prospect that the cold war with Russia will continue "for a long, long time."

He disclosed, in a speech at Pocatello, Idaho, the signing of the National Science Foundation act. He said it will keep the United States ahead in scientific developments and help it "exert a more vital force for peace."

The critical international situation was uppermost in the President's expressed thoughts as he began the first of 14 talks on a swing through Idaho and Oregon.

"The first atomic explosion in history took place in the desert of New Mexico in July, 1945," he said in a speech prepared for his trainside audience at Pocatello.

"I decided at that time that I would do my utmost to see that this new discovery was used in the way which would make the world a better place to live in. Nothing has happened since 1945 has shaken my resolve to see that great force is used for peace."

"Chet" Cornwell pitched and batted the Gettysburg high school baseball team to a 6-4 victory over Hanover here Tuesday afternoon in a South Penn league game.

Cornwell was a mixture of efficiency in his hurling, whiffing 14 while also yielding nine bases on balls. He pounded out three of his hits, his single in the third inning sending over three runs to knock Kane from the mound.

A base on balls to Ferree, a fielder's choice and singles by Lucke, Bill, Gruver and Marchio gave the Night-hawks two runs in the second.

Cornwell's team came right back with four in their half on a walk to Bucher, two outs, single by Signor, walk to Ford, single by Cornwell and an infield error. The Warriors put the clincher on the game with four more in the third. Bupp singled and Bucher walked. Cleveland was safe when he forced Bupp at third base. Singley singled and Signor walked to produce a run and then Cornwell singled to right center to clear the bases.

Luckenbill's walk and a single by Crawford produced a Hanover run in the fourth and four bases on balls gave the visitors their last tally in the fifth. Cornwell fanned eight batters in the last three innings.

The victory marked the second in four starts for the Warriors. On Friday afternoon they will meet the unbeaten Chambersburg team here in another league game.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

$22,000 Memorial Church Front Is Dedicated: Voicing vigorous protest against the passage of another amendment to the federal constitution and the subsequent establishment of another governmental department at Washington, with jurisdiction over the country's school system, Governor Ritchie, of Maryland, speaking at exercises in connection with the dedication of the memorial front at St. Francis Xavier church here Sunday afternoon, made a strong plea for religious and personal liberty, "uninfluenced by a minority."

Leo G. Griffith, Pittsburgh, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, made the presentation speech, in which he formally presented to the diocese of Harrisburg and to St. Francis Xavier church the $22,000 memorial front, the free-will gift of more than 50,000 Knights of Columbus in Pennsylvania, he said. . . . Mr. Griffith declared "It is most appropriate on this day — dedicated to mothers — that we should pay this tribute to the Sisters of Charity, daughters of Elizabeth Ann Seton, their founder."

Before the Rt. Rev. Philip R. McDevitt, bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, formally accepted the memorial, little Miss Adelle Dvyn unveiled two bronze tablets, one on each side of the entrances to the church. She was assisted by little Miss Marie Rosensteel and little Miss Madeline Gallagher, who placed baskets of flowers at the foot of each piece of sculpture.

Rev. Father Stock opened the exercises, extending the thanks of the Gettysburg parish to the state Knights of Columbus.

Mothers Will Be Guests at G-burg College: Gettysburg college students, administration officials and faculty members will pay tribute to the mothers of sons and daughters attending the local institution on Saturday and Sunday in the first annual "Mothers and Sons" day program ever inaugurated here.

Saturday's program is replete with entertainment from a tea at the "White House," to a baseball game, review of the R.O.T.C. unit, and banquet in the evening.

At five o'clock, two banquets held simultaneously will open in the Eagle hotel and the Hoffman house. Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson will be the principal speaker. Dr. H. M. Valentine and Dr. G. D. Stahley will act as toastmasters at the Hoffman house and Eagle hotel, respectively.

Change Residence: P. W. Stall-smith and family completed moving from their apartment in the Stahl-smith building to a recently completed bungalow built at Granite Hill, four miles east of Gettysburg.

Traffic Lights Are Taken Down: The automatic traffic signal devices put up at the entrances to the four main streets of Center square last Friday were taken down three days later by the inventor, H. A. Stonesifer, Hanover. The signal devices did not function properly over the week-end and Mr. Stonesifer plans to make the necessary repairs, before they are returned to complete the approval period asked by the town council.

Picnic Grounds Open in Cashtown: C. M. Williams, Pittsburgh, and Clyde Decker, Minneapolis, have opened a camp and picnic grounds at Marsh creek, west of Cashtown, to be known as "W-D. Pine Lodge."

Choral Sing: Community singing with the Gettysburg band playing the accompaniment, at Brua chapel Tuesday night, featured that day's program of Gettysburg's observance of National Music Week.

On Thursday evening, Miss Ruth Kemper, America's youngest violinist, featured a recital at Brua chapel. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Lucille Henry.

Women Raise $1,000 to Pay YMCA Debt: At the silver tea which was held Tuesday afternoon by the Women's League of Gettysburg college, in Christ Lutheran church, it was announced that the members

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE LITTLE EXTRAS

Often it is that the little extras of life loom in value and remembrance far above the main acts that constitute the day. For example: I pass through a toll bridge station every day to work, and it costs me 10 cents, but the officer there always thanks me, day in and day out. I have a barber who is intelligent and cheerful, who gives me something more than the hair cut—a smile at meeting him and a "good luck" wish as I leave.

Little courtesies, that may be so unexpected, even extra trouble, and often going out of our way to do them, for no other reason than to give pleasure to someone else, but what an investment in happiness these things are, when totaled!

In the sum of the years, the remembrance of the little extras of life shine out in our memory like stars in a blue heaven. I have a friend who is most modest, though he has accomplished a great deal, but he is beloved by a long list of friends who have received almost endless little extras in small services and thoughtful deeds at his hands.

Nature is scattered with these extras—tiny flowers of exquisite design, in the out-of-the-way places, varied colorings in soil and earth structure, and unique revelations of the creative power of God, no matter in what direction we look, or wherever we go. There they are, hiding, sleeping, or awaiting our discovery—mysteries and wonders.

If we only counted up these accumulated extras, and in full appreciation took them all to mind and heart, each day we would grow richer and richer, and happier as well. There are those who expect much from us, but what an unusual surprise it is for another to receive a little extra, of some sort or other, from us, that was wholly unexpected!

It's the little extras, that the other fellow doesn't render, that start the one who gives them, on his way to the top. Things for which he wasn't immediately paid, but offered gratuitously because of a hidden urge. The solidness of life is made up of these little extras, and life will prove richer if they are but noted and distributed!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Many, Many Acquaintances."

Just Folks

BY EDGAR A. QUEST
NATURE AND MAN
The earth is at its loveliest
With nature's brave display.
Tis only men who fail their best
And waste their time away.

With bloom the cherry trees are bright,
As always, year by year.
Tis only men who think it right
To shirk their purpose here.

There will be fruitage in the fall
And fields of golden grain.
Tis only men who think that all
High service asks is vain.

All things in nature grace the soil
Until their tasks are done.
Tis only men who will not toil
Until life's course is run.

Seventeen persons were dead or missing and more thousands were homeless today as the most damaging floods in years swept over three midwest states.

Human misery rose in the flood areas of North Dakota, Minnesota and Nebraska. Scores of communities were isolated as the surging waters from rain-swollen rivers and streams spilled out over thousands of acres of land.

Across the border in southern Manitoba, the flood crisis mounted. The homeless were some 15,000, and another 10,000 faced evacuation.

Pennsylvania's primary campaign advanced another day toward the May 16 decision with these developments:

Jay Cooke declared for "a program of home rule right down the line" at York. He said such problems from where they will leave for Natural Dam by car. Each member is requested to take a box lunch. Says Solvency Is Issue

U.S. Senator Edward Martin said at Philadelphia that the "paramount issue in this campaign is government solvency, at both state and federal levels." Duff's record at Harrisburg, he said, has been as "reckless, ruthless and extravagant" as the record of the Democrats in Washington.

U.S. Rep. John C. Kunkel said at Wilkes-Barre that Duff's "concern for the 'average guy' is merely a mask designed to disguise you as a phony liberal and political Santa Claus."

John S. Fine said at Butler that "Grundism in Pennsylvania seeks domination of the executive and legislative bodies as well." He pledged "absolute freedom from interference and coercion of any kind over the constitutional responsibilities of our general assembly."

FEPC HOTTEST ISSUE BEFORE CONGRESS NOW

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The FEPC bill is one of the hottest ever laid in the lap of Congress. It generates so much heat, among its friends and foes, that the arguments sometimes get overlooked.

The bill now in the Senate, if it became law, would:

1. Make it unlawful for an employer to discriminate against—refuse to hire—a job-seeker because of his race, color, or religion.

2. And create an FEPC—a five-man board called the Fair Employment Practices Commission—to see that the law was carried out. This board would have power to order an employer to obey it.

Arguments "Against"

Here are some of the arguments of those fighting the Senate bill:

It would destroy the right of an employer to choose his own employees, thus destroying his freedom to hire; the employer would be "bedeviled" in every move he made, hiring, firing, promoting; it would be universally disregarded anyway and that would breed contempt for all laws; it is presented chiefly as a bid for votes; it would create antagonism among workers and lead to riots and disorders; it would lead to regimentation; it would subject a great part of American industry to the "whims, prejudices and caprices of bureaucracy"; such a bill can't be forced on the people of any state until they're ready for it, and many states are not ready now; a number of states are making progress toward ending discrimination through voluntary means but this bill would destroy that. And, furthermore, some opponents of the Senate bill say it's Communist-inspired.

Friends of the bill say:

It would close the gap between what we preach about democracy and how we actually practice it; raise the prestige of the United States around the world; help the whole nation's economy by increasing the buying power of all the people;

It deals only with establishing economic equality and has nothing to do with social equality, which some of its opponents have suggested in order to confuse the issue. Religious groups of every major denomination have testified in favor of the bill.

Although southerners are fighting

SQUALLS TAKE TWENTY LIVES

New York, May 10 (AP)—Treach-

er it hardest, discrimination in employment is not confined to one section of the country or any one industry; it happens all over and is being done by business, the government, and labor unions; the discrimination not only is widespread but is increasing; a number of states now have anti-discriminatory laws and before they passed them they were warned business would leave the state, while employees would quit their jobs, and employers would be harassed and hounded on indiscriminate charges, but—those things haven't come to pass.

ous spring squalls caught thousands of New York and New England boatmen without warning over the sunny week-end and left 20 of them dead or missing in lakes, rivers and salt water.

The high winds, tail end of a mid-west storm, reached 65 miles an hour at some points.

In addition to the havoc caused on the water, the winds also fanned forest fires in New England and blanked out most private flying. The flames covered hundreds of acres of New England woodland.

Upper New York state had the worst drowning toll, with 10 dead or missing since Friday. New York city and Long Island sound counted seven lost Sunday, while New England had three drownings.

Small craft warnings had been hoisted for waters in the area South of Eastport, Me., but the sudden violence was unexpected. Some puffs of 52 miles an hour were recorded in New York city.

Sunday was the most disastrous for New York city boatmen since another set of squalls ambushed them last July.

CAR CRUSHES CHILD

Easton, Pa., May 10 (AP)—Three-year-old David Dornblaster was injured fatally in an unusual accident Monday. The youngster, said Policeman Matthew Ewabinger, had curled up inside an automobile tire in the street while playing with other children. A car, driven by David W. Nellis, ran over the tire, the policeman said. David died several hours later in Easton hospital.

more important—IT SAVES LIVES

Each year, in Pennsylvania, almost 7,000 serious traffic accidents are caused by mechanical failure of cars. But, if Pennsylvania's figure for this type of fatality were as high as the national average, there would have been 20,000 more accidents. This means that the Pennsylvania Official Inspection system is responsible, each year, for saving more than 180 lives which would otherwise be uselessly sacrificed in traffic accidents caused by faulty equipment!

That is why the Pennsylvania Automotive Association and the Department of Revenue are holding an intensive car inspection campaign in May. Have your car inspected now. Make certain it is in safe mechanical condition for summer holiday and vacation driving. Your inspection station thoroughly checks brakes... windshield... steering... lights... horn... muffler... stop signal... windshield wiper... and, if found necessary, puts them into good working order.

Don't delay—have your car inspected in May. Let the month of May pay off in extra safety for you and your family.

No car will be permitted on the highways without a current inspection sticker after July 31.

CHINESE REDS FREE 2 AIRMEN HELD AS SPIES

Tokyo, May 10 (AP)—The Chinese Communists broadcast Tuesday they are releasing two American airmen from whom they extorted "spy confessions" after 18 months in prison.

The official Peiping radio said the two airmen, E. C. Bender and W. C. Smith, will be deported. It gave no details.

Marine Master Sgt. Elmer C. Bender, Cincinnati, and Navy Chief Electrician William C. Smith, Long Beach, California, were forced down October 19, 1948, on a flight from Tsingtao, then a U. S. naval base.

They have been held incommunicado. The Reds stiffly rejected all efforts to obtain their release.

The Communist radio broadcast this statement by Gen. Hsu Shihyuh, commander of the Shantung military district: "It was not until lately that Bender and Smith, influenced by our magnanimous policy toward prisoners, began to confess."

The history of communism is full of similar "confessions," obtained after long imprisonment.

Broadcast Account

The broadcast gave this account: Smith and Bender said the "objective of the flight was to reconnoiter the railways" in Red-held Shantung peninsula and construction projects at Lai-yang, important Red base 72 miles north of Tsingtao.

On the way back, their plane "landed" shortly after midnight on Kiao-chow (Kiaotung) peninsula across the bay from Tsingtao. The plane carried "charts and various military maps," of the U. S. espionage organization.

"The above facts and confession

Acheson And Bevin Meet In London Today

London, May 10 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin met Tuesday to discuss ways of winning the cold war.

Acheson came by plane from Paris, where he talked Monday with French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and agreed that the United States would give military and economic aid to keep warring Indo-China out of the Communist column.

Acheson and Schuman also were reported in agreement on giving more political and economic freedom to western Germany by easing the occupation law under which the big three control their "German ex-enemies."

One of the problems the U. S. and British ministers were to examine was similar to that of Indo-China—the Communist uprising against Britain in Malaya, source of much of the world's rubber and tin.

Dairying is the principal agricultural activity of Iceland.

Confiscate Plane
"The Shantung Military Headquarters has decided to confiscate the airplane," (an L-5).

"Since Bender and Smith have confessed their repentance they are being released and deported in line with the policy of the Chinese people's (Communist) liberation army toward prisoners."

The broadcast said Communists had released four captured U. S. airmen last year after Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger, then commander of the U. S. Western Pacific fleet, "admitted their mistakes in a personal letter and guaranteed that no similar occurrence would happen again."

Philadelphia, May 10 (AP)—Fire caused an estimated $800,000 damage Tuesday in a three story paint and varnish manufacturing plant in south Philadelphia.

John Kilbride, Jr., the foreman of the Jaegle Paint and Varnish company, estimated the damage. He said there were 54,000 gallons of white traffic paint, consigned to the state of Virginia for highway markings, stored in steel drums in the shipping department on the first floor.

REGAINS SIGHT AFTER 14 YEARS OF BLINDNESS

Uniontown, Pa., May 10 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Franz looked out of a window to her home, then went to the door and screamed. You probably would, too, if you could see for the first time in 14 years.

Mrs. Franz, 44-year-old mother of three sons, became blind following child birth. She lost the sight of her right eye first, then the left weakened and failed completely.

In those 14 years of darkness, her sons grew up. Henry is 14 now, Joe is 24, and Christopher is a 17-year-old Army private stationed in Germany. Their father died 16 months ago.

The other day, Mrs. Franz became conscious of brilliant flashes of light. That's when she went to the window and this is what she saw:

"I Could See"
It looked like a lot of strings flying around outside. As I focused on them, I realized it was branches of a nearby tree I could see!

"Then I could make out houses and windows in close dwellings. I turned to the kitchen table. I was able to see a cup and saucer. That scared me most of all. I had been used to feeling for dishes and often upsetting them."

"As if in a dream I made my way to the door and screamed. I was so frightened. Then the neighbors came—they thought there had been an accident."

Doctors say a cataract "must have dislocated," causing Mrs. Franz to regain her sight.

Asphalt Compound Helps Leaky Roof

A roof that leaks all over can be given a coating of heavy asphalt and asbestos compound, which will fill up cracks and nail holes and preserve the roof for several years. However, before this coating is applied, all curled and broken shingles should be replaced or repaired.

If the leak is centered, it can be located by looking at the underside during a rainstorm. It is very likely to be at the junction of two surfaces—a valley or the joint between a chimney and the roof, or where a dormer is cut through. In this case, the fault is probably in the flashing, but if it is in the middle of a large roof area, it is likely to be from a curled or loosened shingle.

Salt containing only 1/10,000 iodine will usually prevent iodine deficiencies in the diet.

Building Ideas For Home Owners Of This Community

The Elton, Modified Ranch Style Home

Rooms	Five
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Five
Cubage	20,600
Dimensions	25' x 42'6"

A modified ranch style home is presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service. It is "The Elton," a five room house, built on one floor.

Because of its design, it's only 25 feet wide. "The Elton" is ideal for a narrow lot. A 40-foot minimum lot is required. The house measures 42'6" long and has a cubic footage of 20,600.

A large living room, with a fireplace if the owner desires, a combination kitchen and breakfast area, three bedrooms and a bathroom are included in the floor plan.

The projecting entrance makes possible a window in the living room overlooking the front lawn and street and gives a welcome break in the roof line.

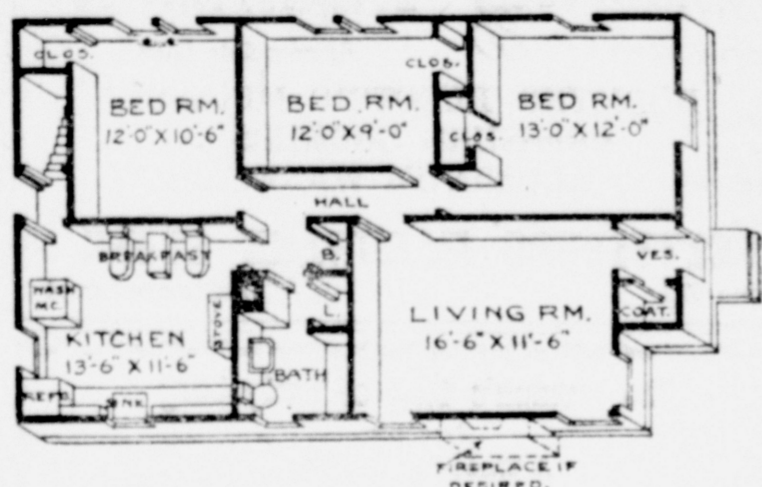

The vertical lines over the door and window contrast pleasantly with the horizontal lines of the clapboarded sidewalls. The paneled door gives a further dignity and the small panes serve to light the vestibule which boasts a large coat closet, a popular feature seldom provided in homes of modest size.

A fireplace, between the two side windows of the living room, would be a pleasing addition not only to the living room, but also to the outside appearance of the entire house.

Spacious Living Room
Through the vestibule, the 16'6"x11'6" living room is visible. The corner windows and the second side window provide a bright and well-ventilated room. If a fireplace is built between the side windows, the area beneath the corner windows would make an excellent place for a built-in seat. The back and inside walls of the room are long and unbroken, except for a door into the hall in the far side wall. The hall runs through the center of the house and divides the sleeping quarters on the right side of the house from the living and eating areas.

Bedrooms Described
The front or master bedroom is 13'x12'. It has two windows for light and ventilation and a large closet just inside the door. The middle bedroom, measuring 12'x9' would be ideal as a boy's room. Bunks could be built along the back inside wall and there would still be ample floor space for other furniture. A large closet on the front inside wall would accommodate clothes and playthings for two youngsters. Double windows provide light and air.

At the end of the hall is the back bedroom measuring 12'x10'6". Three walls are unbroken providing ample space for large pieces of furniture. Double windows are on the fourth wall. A closet is in the back corner, next to the cellar stair well.

Before reaching the door to the last bedroom the hall widens and has a broom closet on the left, adjacent to the door to the bathroom. A swinging door to the kitchen is located next to the bedroom door.

Convenient Bathroom
The bathroom is strategically placed in the center of the house so that it is easily accessible from any room. A handy linen closet is provided just inside the door. The plumbing layout has been planned so as to keep construction costs to a minimum.

Entering the kitchen you'll immediately notice the spacious breakfast area on the inside wall. Overhead cupboards may be provided on this wall, also.

A space next to the window on the back wall is reserved for the washing machine. Just to the right of the washer is a door providing access to the cellar stairs and back entry way.

The kitchen measures 13'6"x11'6". The sink is located beneath the side window which divides the long work counter and the overhead cupboards. At the far end of the kitchen is the perfect location for the refrigerator, while the stove should be placed in the front inside wall, just inside the swinging door. The counter and cupboards could be extended so that they adjoin the stove, or the refrigerator can be moved up near to the stove.

In the full cement cellar the heating system should be located beneath the kitchen. The rest of the cellar can be partitioned off according to the owner's desires.

This house should be completely

Check Circuits When Adding More Outlets

Before adding even one more outlet to existing electrical installations, a householder should check the circuit to prevent an overload.

The standard electrical code limits each circuit to 12 outlets except under a few special conditions. To determine how many outlets are on any one circuit, loosen the fuse for that circuit and count the number of outlets which are dead. If there are less than 12, it is safe to add another outlet.

If the proposed addition would cause this limit to be exceeded, it is necessary to run a new circuit from the fuse box to the new work. A qualified electrician should always be employed.

Government was established in Indiana Territory July 4, 1800.

Indiana Territory at first included what is now Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and eastern Minnesota.

News Briefs

Paris, May 10 (AP)—The Crosby brothers—Bing and Larry—told conflicting stories today of the state of the famous crooner's 20-year-old marriage to onetime film star Dixie Lee.

Here in Paris the screen and radio singer denied a Hollywood report that "strained relations" are blighting his married life.

But in Hollywood his brother Larry, head of the Crosby research foundation, said: "We hope it is a separation and not a divorce."

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The Supreme court sees no violation of the constitution in the non-Communist oath provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

By vote of five to one, the high tribunal Monday upheld the power of Congress to compel union officials to swear they are not Communists if they wish to get the assistance of the National Labor Relations board.

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said Tuesday it is bunk for the Justice Department to claim it is having trouble prosecuting labor leaders who may swear with fingers crossed they are not Communists.

The question of action against such officials takes on more importance now that the Supreme court has ruled the non-Communist oath requirement of the Taft-Hartley labor law is legal. The court gave its decision Monday.

Waynesburg, Pa., May 10 (AP)—Silver dollars are rolling across store counters in a growing tide these days in this college town.

Officials of Waynesburg college decided to show townsmen how big a role the institution plays in the community's business life by paying all bills and salaries in silver dollars. Merchants cooperate by keeping the hard money in circulation.

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Western Union Telegraph company Tuesday officially added New Jersey to the list of states in which it will not accept or deliver messages relating to the making of bets.

The company obtained authority from the Communications commission to revise its operations regulations to invoke the ban effective tomorrow.

Green Writes Murray On Unification Plan

Philadelphia, May 10 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor has given a "yes-and-no" answer to the CIO's latest proposal for unification of organized labor.

The answer to the CIO's proposal is "yes" provided unity is on a permanent and organic basis. But if the CIO is thinking strictly in terms of a tentative and cooperative unification then the AFL's answer is "no."

President William Green of the AFL made clear his organization's stand yesterday in a letter to Philip Murray, head of the CIO. Green made public his letter at a news conference following the opening of the AFL's executive council's five-day meeting. The meeting was closed.

Murray had asked the AFL, John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, the four independent railroad brotherhoods and the International Association of Machinists to join in the unity effort.

Why just listen to reasons?

COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

THIS TIME we'd like to tell you about something that you cannot see in this picture—something, in fact, you cannot know about from looking at someone else in a passing Buick—or from viewing a Buick on our showroom floor.

It's the feel you get from a Buick in motion.

You are going to find out that it is something like traveling on your own private, jet-propelled cloud—only firmer.

Maybe you know a stretch of washboard road, where you have to slow down, or bounce and jitter.

Try that in a Buick and see how you keep a level, comfortable boulevard smoothness.

Maybe you're always on edge to dodge dips and chuckholes. Those also lose most of their jolt when you're at the wheel of a Buick—or in the rear seat.

In a few simple words—the ride of any Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is out of this world.

We could give you a lot of reasons. Soft coil springs on all four wheels, for example—the firm linkage of the torque-tube drive—the distribution of weight—big soft tires on wide rims—the way Buick engines are mounted.

Even Dynaflo Drive*—always silky-smooth and free of geared-drive harshness—plays its part in the marvelous Buick ride.

But why simply listen to reasons? Experience is still the best teacher.

Come see for yourself why the Buick ride is called "matchless"—and how little it costs to replace a jitterbuggy with one of these level-striding honeys.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

ONLY BUICK HAS Dynaflo AND WITH IT GOES:

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and gauging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.
